Tucson author J.A. Jance to speak at Green Valley Branch Library

J.A. Jance, one of Tucson's best-known authors will visit the Joyner-Green Valley Branch Library on Thursday, Aug. 7 to discuss her newest book, Damage Control, due out later this month.

Jance, a New York Times bestselling author, has numerous works featuring southern Arizona and involving the character Cochise County Sheriff Joanna Brady. The library stop in Green Valley is part of her latest book tour.

The author will begin by discussing her novel at 2 p.m. at the library, 601 N. La Cañada Drive in Green Valley. Jance novels will be available for purchase and signing following the author's talk. The event is free and open to the public.
