

Remember The Pandemic

I remember days where I would sit aimlessly doing nothing were what scared me most, because it felt as if time were running out while not being spent at all.

I remember how much strength and perseverance it took to get to the other side of the seemingly endless period of hopelessness.

- Olivia